NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A Long Way After Longfellow

The Monday sun was sinking fast, As by the city's stores there passed A youth who carried in his hand A business card-Thereon the brand-

GUSKY'S!

In windows bright he saw the glow Of countless treasures set for show, Within, the shoppers priced and bought But in his mind abode one thought-

GUSKY'S!

A Furnisher cried "turn and see My show of haberdasherie. Who's stock with this can e'er compete?" The youth replied far down the street-

GUSKY'S!

"Try not to pass," a clothier cried, "The lowest prices are just inside." The youth replied, "It may be so But just the same I'll always go-

"Beware of cheap machine made shoes Give industry and skill its dues." This was the cobbler's last suggest, The youth replied, "They keep the best-At GUSKY'S

His brow was stern, his eye so keen Was blue, without a shade of green; His mind was clear, his judgment sound; He'd looked for "business" and he found

GUSKY'S!

Toward eventide, as down the street A pious "copper" paced his beat, He saw this youth in raiment grand; That card still in his well-gloved hand-

GUSKY'S!

His stylish hat, his shapely suit, His natty cane and faultless boot, His snowy shirt and tasteful tie, Had every one been sold him by-GUSKY'S!

That "copper" stood amazed to see Such wondrous styles and dignity. "Who made this dude?" he loudly cried. And, proudly gay, our youth replied-GUSKY'S!
